

What's Developing

If you ever know of people who would like to vacation in the area or are thinking about moving to the area, Eureka Community Development Company would be happy to assist in getting information to them.

A packet of written information is sent to any who may be interested. The contents of that packet are assembled specifically for each request. Tourists want to know about events, the lake, and things they can see and do while in the area. Hunters generally ask about pheasant numbers, cover conditions, places to stay, and places to hunt. Those considering moving to the area want to know everything about everything – housing, utilities, churches, school, organizations, and anything else they will need to know as new Eureka residents.

Besides receiving the appropriate information, those who are interested are also steered to the websites (Eureka and McPherson County hunting) that answer some of their questions and give them additional information.

You can pass your requests along to ECDC by calling 284-2130, emailing ecdc@valleytel.net or stopping at the office in Information Center.
