

What's Developing

Last year the Eureka Community Development Company sponsored Dave Ramsey Financial Peace University. Because it was such an excellent course and there have been inquiries about the possibility of offering it again this year, it has been put on the schedule of upcoming trainings for the community.

The message given by Dave Ramsey is getting out of debt and living debt-free. The material applies to all ages and covers financial situations that people encounter on a regular basis.

The 90-minute classes will be held on Sunday afternoons beginning at 3:00 PM at the Information Center. The first class will be on January 11, 2015. The nine-week course will be facilitated by Pastor Ryan Gage.

The cost for the class is about $100, although grants are being sought to help defray the cost. A couple can share the materials. Materials include books, workbooks, videos and other class items.

If you have questions about the class, would like to see the course materials, or would like to sign up for the class contact Pastor Ryan Gage at 605-284-2161 or pastor.ryan.gage@gmail.com or contact the Eureka Development office at 605-284-2130 or ecdc@valleytel.net.
