

What's Developing

There are many ways that a business can let potential customers know that they exist. If you have a business, you may already have some of these things in place. The Eureka Community Development Company (ECDC) can help you use them for more exposure.

- Do you have business cards? They can be placed in the wall mounted business card holder in the Information Center.
- Do you have brochures? They can be placed in the brochure holder in the Information Center.
- Do you have a phone number, email, or website? All of these can be included in the business listing on ECDC's website.
- Do you have any of the above or any other promotional items? They can be placed in the Welcome Bags that are given to new people to Eureka.
- Do you have an in-home business? All of the above information applies to you and your business.

Drop off materials at the ECDC office in the Information Center or email information to ecdc@valleytel.net.
