

What's Developing

Get more exposure for your local events. All you have to do is get your poster to the Eureka Community Development Company (email is fine). It will be forwarded to Glacial Lakes and Prairies Tourism Association located in the Terry Redlin Center in Watertown. They promote the events in the region by sharing the posters through email and post them in their visitor center. Many thousands of people see the posters in person and through a wide email audience, potentially drawing more people to your events in Eureka.
