

What's Developing

Classes for Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University will begin on Sunday, February 12 at 3:00 PM at the Eureka Information Center. The classes each last approximately 90 minutes, and the 9-week course will be facilitated by Pastor Ryan Gage.

Those who have previously taken the financial course (this is the 4th year it has been offered locally) have seen many benefits from taking the class. Most have changed some of their spending habits and decreased debt. Other topics that are learned during the classes that have been of help to those enrolled have been repayment of student loans, purchasing an automobile, learning about all kinds of insurance, saving money, and home mortgages.

The majority of the class is spent watching a video that is usually hosted by Dave Ramsey. Each participant will receive a hardcover book "Dave Ramsey's Complete Guide to Money", a workbook, and a box of supplies related to the classes.

The course is sponsored by the Eureka Community Development Company and course materials can be purchased from ECDC at a cost savings (several were ordered last fall as an Early Bird special).

The first class can be attended free of charge by any who want to learn more about the course. After attending the first class, materials and registration can be purchased if individuals would like to continue to attend.

Couples can share their materials and purchase just one registration packet. Attendees over the past years have included single people, married couples, young adults, middle aged people, those who are retired and those just starting out in a working career.

A couple of quotes from Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University explains a little more about the course and what people can expect to get from it: "The average family completing the course pays off $5,300 and saves $2,700 in just 90 days. That's an $8,000 change in position!" "Whether you're struggling to make ends meet or you're a millionaire, FPU has something for you."
